SALVOS SOCIAL INTERN

What is the purpose?

The Intern position offers a valuable opportunity for Salvo members aspiring to become practitioners or social workers while studying in social or community services.

This role allows you to integrate your faith and Corps life with professional practice and social programs.

As an intern, you will acquire meaningful experience by engaging in one of the programs within The Salvation Army's Social Mission Department.

What to expect

Paid Internship

The Internship is a year-long, casual (generally one day per week) paid social work position.

You can work in

- AOD,
- Homelessness,
- Family Violence or
- Youth

With the Potential to extend a further year.

Professional Experience

Gain practical experience in the field while pursuing your studies.

Enhance your resume and skill set, while deepening your understanding of the link between our Corps and Social programs.

Mission and Ministry project

You'll team up with the Mission and Ministry coordinator on a project to establish a connection between your corps and the social program.

Peer support & Mentoring

Learn from one of our Social work stream specialists, who will support your professional, academic and spiritual development.

Develop a strong peer network with other Salvo's across Victoria.

Regular supervision.

Academic Support for studies

Mission Immersion

During your second year of the internship, you will have the opportunity to participate in a team mission — an immersive experience.
