

*In Colossians 4:6 Paul says:
'Let your conversation be always
full of grace'.*

Open your silver box and read the poem. Spend some time talking to God about the words you speak to others. Are they silver boxes?
Are they words of grace?

*In Colossians 4:6 Paul says:
'Let your conversation be always
full of grace'.*

Open your silver box and read the poem. Spend some time talking to God about the words you speak to others. Are they silver boxes?
Are they words of grace?

*In Colossians 4:6 Paul says:
'Let your conversation be always
full of grace'.*

Open your silver box and read the poem. Spend some time talking to God about the words you speak to others. Are they silver boxes?
Are they words of grace?

*In Colossians 4:6 Paul says:
'Let your conversation be always
full of grace'.*

Open your silver box and read the poem. Spend some time talking to God about the words you speak to others. Are they silver boxes?
Are they words of grace?

*In Colossians 4:6 Paul says:
'Let your conversation be always
full of grace'.*

Open your silver box and read the poem. Spend some time talking to God about the words you speak to others. Are they silver boxes?
Are they words of grace?

*In Colossians 4:6 Paul says:
'Let your conversation be always
full of grace'.*

Open your silver box and read the poem. Spend some time talking to God about the words you speak to others. Are they silver boxes?
Are they words of grace?

*In Colossians 4:6 Paul says:
'Let your conversation be always
full of grace'.*

Open your silver box and read the poem. Spend some time talking to God about the words you speak to others. Are they silver boxes?
Are they words of grace?

*In Colossians 4:6 Paul says:
'Let your conversation be always
full of grace'.*

Open your silver box and read the poem. Spend some time talking to God about the words you speak to others. Are they silver boxes?
Are they words of grace?

*In Colossians 4:6 Paul says:
'Let your conversation be always
full of grace'.*

Open your silver box and read the poem. Spend some time talking to God about the words you speak to others. Are they silver boxes?
Are they words of grace?

*In Colossians 4:6 Paul says:
'Let your conversation be always
full of grace'.*

Open your silver box and read the poem. Spend some time talking to God about the words you speak to others. Are they silver boxes?
Are they words of grace?