Resilience of older persons in a changing world

Leaders notes

Introduction to theme

Over the past century, our world has experienced rapid change. New innovations have transformed the way we travel, communicate, work, produce food and make money. In 2023, on International Day of Older Persons, we celebrate how older people have helped bring about progress. We also acknowledge their courage and resilience in a changing world.

Change can be exciting and liberating but it can also be challenging and bewildering. However we feel about it, it is an unavoidable part of life. In the midst of change, God remains steady. He is our anchor, holding us firm. No matter what happens, we can find strength and resilience in his steadfast goodness and love.

On International Day of Older Persons, make space to highlight older people in your corps and community by:

- Celebrating their contributions
- Listening to their stories of how God has sustained them
- Discovering how you can support them through future change

Suggested Scripture

O Lord, endures forever.

Praise him, all you people of the earth.
2 For his unfailing love for us is powerful;
