

Prayer

Dear Lord,

Psalm 89:14 reminds us that, “Your kingdom is ruled by justice and fairness with love and faithfulness leading the way.”

While we long to see your Kingdom on Earth, our world today is often very different to this. We see the poverty, inequality and hardship that many people face. We see the pain and the despair of those who struggle daily to meet basic needs. Help us not to look away, but to pay attention.

Inspire us by your love and example to have hearts of compassion for those who are hurting. May this compassion drive us to action, taking responsibility to do our part to bring healing and wholeness to our world. Give us the courage to share the love of Jesus in practical ways and speak up for those whose voices are not heard.

Amen.
