

If you've been around the Salvos for a while, you've probably heard this phrase. It's right there in our vision statement, displayed on our walls, and spoken about by our leaders.

But what does it really mean?